“ Mason, You have always bright little light, ever since Eielson AFB, Alaska where you were squirming from the pew or looking up from your dad's lap, holding your mommy's hand or running around with your brothers. Your bright smile shows that you are your mom and dad's son. Be a heavenly light for us and we will share your spirit and walk by the Light that never fails. Amanda, Chris, Ryan, Aiden and Carson & family, please accept my prayers and blessings and this Light.

“ Mom can I go to Masons after school today? This was the first question I heard almost everyday before school from Paxton. Pax has so many find memories of Mason but the one he wanted me to share most was of the day he spent at Masons house just being best friends he said. They jumped on the trampoline, ran through the house, played basketball, you name it these boys made it happen. Mason was such a joy to be around and his smile was infectious. Watching Paxton and Mason interact by just looking at each other, making a silly face then laughing historically will be a memory I play over and over in my mind. Mason I thank you for being the best friend my son could have ever asked for. We talk about you everyday, we laugh, we cry, and hold each other tight. I cannot express how much this world misses you and all those who knew you. You are a light in a dark place and will forever shine bright in the hearts and memories of all who had the honor of calling you friend. We love you Mason may you rest in peace buddy.

“ The Lopardi family were one of my very first photography clients. Mason was always so sweet and willing to listen. His bright smile will be with me always.

“ Our first Alaskan Thanksgiving (2017) and Mason laughed each time Kara tried to see behind his outdoor face mask and even let Kara stomp around in his winter boots. He treated Kara as one of the family, his smile and laugh brought smiles to those around him. You will be forever missed and forever loved. Kara says she loves you.

“ This is more from a teacher’s perspective, but Mason was one of the sweetest, most respectful, and hardworking students in my class. He truly wanted to learn, and I loved watching him learn and grow in his knowledge. It made me so happy to see him gain confidence and understanding. I remember when he raised his hand for the first time to read something to the class; I was beyond ecstatic because he always paid attention but never raised his hand for anything. That was a proud teacher moment for sure, but I have many others with Mason as well.

Whenever we did group/partner work, had Fun Friday, or went to the STEM room, I was able to see Mason’s silly, more talkative, and imaginative side which I loved. He was always drawing Dog Man and Cat Kid with Drake. Mason was really an amazing child and student and I’m so thankful I had the wonderful opportunity to have had him in my class.

“Mason embedded his way into our family and into our hearts. Him and Drake were inseparable. Two peas in a pod. Being in the same class and spending the whole day together wasn't enough, so they'd play as long as they could after school and on the weekends. Even that sometimes wasn't enough, so they'd grab their Switches and play Fortnite, sometimes while watching each other out the window. They spent so much time together I even joked about giving Amanda child support for the amount of time Drake spent at their house. Lol. I'll always remember their silly voices, crazy faces and dance moves, then swinging on the tree branch in our front yard, and the failed attempts at sleepovers; They'd get so close, but at 1 or 2am, they would always call us to go back home. Mason was the sweetest, most polite young man and we truly enjoyed his presence because he made Drake so happy. Thank you for allowing Mason to make our lives better. He will always be remembered and remain in our hearts forever. ❤️

“We always climbed the tree, played man-hunt, football and Fortnite together. He taught me stuff like how to do a front flip on the trampoline. He was my very best friend and I miss him -Drake Hillman

“ Mason,
You have always had a place in my heart, and not just because I love your Mama. You are one of the only people who has given me a special nickname.
One that only you know what in the world it means.
I loved playing games with you and your brothers, going out with just. you and your Mama for lunch, ice cream, beach, splash pad, and long walks.
One day, I will meet you again in paradise.
Love You Dear Boy,
Your Meanyah

“ Mason Anthony Lopardi is so energetic. He is just like his parents so competitive. He always strides to be the best at every sport he played, and most of the time was the best. He was a big goof ball. That put a smile on everyone’s face. He would play outside with the older boys that were twice his age, and had no problem keeping up with them. He is truly going to be missed by everyone that has met him. We love you Mason Anthony ❤️ The Boykin’s

“ I remember when moving to Alaska and trying to adjust the boys knew no one and being so far from family it was tough for them. I'll never forget that day the door bell rang and it was Mason standing there and he asked "Do you have kids I can play with" it was the cutest thing ever. And from that day forward the boys were together 24 7. We have so many memories with Mason. He was Conners first friend, first sleepover they did alot of first things together and we will forever cherish that. RIP Sweet Boy.

“ At Carson's 1st birthday party I remember watching him run around and play with the other kiddos. He was so active and engergetic with the biggest smile on his face. Very sweet boy and he will be missed by everyone who knew him. Sending you so much hugs and love! May you all find some comfort all the wonderful memories of your precious boy.

“ I have many.. but the very first one was in Alaska. Bo introduced me to Mason and said "this is my new friend mom" as we were waiting in the hall out side of their kindergarten class. I said "hi Bo's new friend Mason nice to meet you" he just waved and smiled so big. The most recent one was Mason had rode his bike up to the side of my truck as I was talkin to Amanda and he said something like "yo, did you bring me... " and for the life of me I can't remember what he asked. But it was so funny. Then he smiled, laughed and rode off. And I will never forget all the times Mason and Bo running out in the school field waiting while Amanda and I would talk what the boys would say "foreverrrrr" lol

Will miss that kiddo! ❤️💙💜💚

“ My favorite memory of Mason is the day I first met him. It was at the Duke Field firehouse. He was still a baby, and I'll never forget watching him ride into the kitchen in his stroller, with his big brothers surrounding him. I held him and played with him. Oh how sweet he was ❤️
