“ I miss you my dear Aunt Mickey now and every day. You were the most uplifting force in our family, and you were so vital in mind, body, and soul it feels like I'm losing someone in the prime of her life. I hope you are with your Art again now, and say hello to my father and my aunt Darlene, and please watch over me. I love you more than words can say.

“ Remembering how you walk these halls at Maryvale Senior Complex with a giving free-spirited, now I suppose you grace the Halls of Heaven no doubt!) I miss you terribly my dear close friend. You'll be in my heart of hearts. I miss your smile. I miss our impromptu chats. I miss you asking "well, how far did you walk today?" I miss seeing the light of your apartment on my early morning walks. I miss you coming to my door to fix this or that. I miss those frozen grapes you used to pay me for my troubles.
