“ Rachel was an ardent supporter of her children, as well as the greater Orchard Park sports community. My daughter first started playing soccer with Rebecca when they were 8. Rachel was omnipresent throughout the years, cheering for them in all conditions (including sleet and torrential rain), sharing in their glory as Becca held off team after team, and yet also comforting all of us when things did not go as planned. Her quick wit and genuine concern for others could evoke a smile when you did not even know you had it in you. I always admired how Rachel balanced raising four amazing children, supporting them as multi-season athletes and true academics, while having a career of her own. (I know Tim helped tremendously too) She took time to encourage my girls as well, sending kind words and newspaper clippings in which they were featured. She valued hard work, commitment and celebrating the merits of those endeavors. Her devotion to her family is what has allowed them all to thrive. I have much love for the Romans and am greatly saddened by the loss of a friend. Rachel was a proud woman and an example for all who knew her.
