“ Anytime I was asked how my mom & Stuart were , it was easy to answer - “they’re good ! They’re happy , they stay busy and do a lot together.” The home cooked meals , the gardens , the projects and hobbies, the crafts , the outings and traditions.. I never doubted that my mom was busy with something beautiful. Even what seems a simple day at home is beautiful with the right person. You all created a full, loving life together and welcomed anyone into it . Hosting included thoughtful planned out meals, spreads .. games and guaranteed laughter, and likely a lesson in something you would have never known otherwise, but he did !

Stuart did more than just help watch my daughter, his granddaughter, he helped raise her. The way Stuart invested in Malia and her interests did not go unnoticed or unappreciated. Malia would share about her weekend excitedly , and has a lot of love for her “Grandpa Stuart.” His influence is irreplaceable and will not be forgotten.

I pray thankful for knowing , loving , and being loved by Stuart . For gaining relationships and family in his sons and their families, people and paws included ! In gratitude that my mom had such sweet companionship . And I pray that every one who knew and loved Stuart somehow finds peace with his passing , until we can meet again .

“ You brought so much happiness and laughter into our family. Seeing how beautiful your relationship was with my mom may be the most important memory I'll carry. Thank you for always cheering me on. I don't think any of us will ever be ready to say goodbye. I love you, Amory

“ You brought laughter and warmth to my life. Shared vibrant sunsets at Olcott Beach. You listened to my wishes and made many of them come true. I am not ready to say goodbye, but I accept that you are in a wonderful place where we will meet again. I love you ... yesterday, today, and tomorrow. Cindy, your Red Queen.
