“ I’m so very sad to have learned you passed away today. We weren’t related by blood but we were family the moment she started dating my cousin. I met you in middle school, played my violin in your wedding when I was in high school, watched you be the best mom to your two boys, sometimes met out for drinks when you got some adult time, was there during your tough divorce and rebuilding, and saw you thrive afterwards. I knew you had some health stuff going on but never thought this would happen. My heart hurts. Posting just a few pics I had on FB bc all my older ones are in totes in my storage unit. I’ll miss you forever cuz but I know you’re with your mom & dad. Your random texts or calls hearing “hey cuz, just wanted to say I love you” will be greatly missed. Rest easy cuz and I look forward to your big hug when I get there one day.
